

CONTENTS: Book chapters

- 1 Introduction
 - 1.1 Researching urban tourism
 - 1.2 Why do people visit cities?
- 2 Cities in competition
 - 2.1 Changing cities
 - 2.2 Competing cities and place marketing
 - 2.3 Place marketing and tourism product development
 - 2.4 The development process and urban planning
 - 2.5 Urban regeneration
- 3 The changing dynamics of tourism and leisure
 - 3.1 Changing tourism practices
 - 3.2 Tourists in their own cities
 - 3.3 Improved connectivity between cities
- 4 City resources for tourism (1): Areas in the city
 - 4.1 The tourism product
 - 4.2 Tourism districts and leisure settings
- 5 City resources for tourism (2): Visitor attractions
 - 5.1 Museums and heritage sites
 - 5.2 Cathedrals, churches and religious buildings
 - 5.3 Nature-based attractions
 - 5.4 Theme and amusement parks
- 6 City resources for tourism (3): Accommodation and other facilities
 - 6.1 Tourism accommodation
 - 6.2 Food and drink establishments
 - 6.3 Facilities for shopping
 - 6.4 Venues for conferences and exhibitions
- 7 Walking and the tourist experience
 - 7.1 The nature of walking
 - 7.2 Tourist motivations and walking
 - 7.3 Walking the city
 - 7.4 Pedestrian areas in city centres
 - 7.5 Photography and the tourist experience
- 8 Meaning of place and the tourist experience
 - 8.1 The Experience of Place
 - 8.2 How buildings and spaces acquire meaning
 - 8.3 Tourist experience and the search for meaning
 - 8.4 The role of the past in the tourist experience
 - 8.5 Tourists as performers
- 9 Urban conservation and the tourist historic city
 - 9.1 Urban heritage and tourism
 - 9.2 The conservation of historic areas

- 9.3 The role of public authorities in urban conservation
- 9.4 World Heritage Sites and historic cities

10 Architecture and tourism

- 10.1 The role of architecture in city tourism
- 10.2 Museum Architecture
- 10.3 Iconic architecture and the city

11 Cities and events

- 11.1 What are events?
- 11.2 Why cities choose to be eventful
- 11.3 Event spaces and urban regeneration

12 Post-Pandemic Prospects: Overtourism or ‘undertourism’?

11 Conclusion

Appendix: Historic city areas inscribed as World Heritage Sites

List of Case studies

- CC1 The regeneration of Lisbon’s city centre
- CC2 Regenerating Sheffield
- CD1 The reconstruction of Rotterdam Centraal
- CD2 Billund Airport, Denmark and the effects of low cost airlines
- AR1 Three examples of the creative use of water in leisure areas
- AR2 Liverpool’s waterfront development
- VA1 The Black Country Living Museum, near Birmingham,
- VA2 The Guinness Storehouse, Dublin
- VA3 Churches in Salzburg Old Town
- VA4 Sheffield Winter Gardens
- VA5 Stockholm’s National City Park
- WK1 Bankside & Millennium Bridge, London
- WK2 Walkable urban spaces in Barcelona
- UC1 Restoration and adaptive reuse of fortifications in Malta
- UC2 Suomenlinna, Helsinki: Conservation and Adaptive Reuse
- AT1 Military History Museum, Dresden
- AT2 Centre Georges Pompidou, Paris
- AT3 Guggenheim Museum, Bilbao
- AT4 Norwegian National Opera and Ballet House, Oslo
- AT5 The Temppeliaukio Church, Helsinki
- EV1 The Palio of Siena - still to be inserted into the text
- EV2 Galway Arts Festival
- EV3 Stockholm Culture Festival
- EV4 Glasgow 1990, European Capital of Culture
- EV5 Lille 2004, European Capital of Culture
- EV6 Valletta 2018, European Capital of Culture